

Lone Working Policy Statement

Introduction

Lone workers spend some or all of their working hours alone for a variety of reasons: they may work in an isolated location, be at a client's or customer's premises, work from home or may simply be working outside normal office hours. In any case, the Company recognises that working alone may involve an increased risk to the health and safety of its employees. As a consequence the Company has a policy that helps to ensure that it succeeds in its responsibility to manage the risks faced by its employees.

Under the terms of the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 the Company has a duty to ensure the health and safety of its employees as far as is reasonably practical. The Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999 place a duty on the Company to assess the degree of risk in the workplace.

Aims of the Policy

To ensure the safety of lone workers when exercising their duties in the absence of any colleagues or supervisors; and

- To ensure that the Company complies with all of its legal obligations.
- Risk Assessments
- The Company will carry out risk assessments on all types of work that are (or are likely to be) undertaken alone with particular regard when doing so to the following factors:
 - Risk of Violence (particularly when handling money or dealing with the public);
 - Equipment (must be suitable and safe for use by one person);
 - Location;
 - Materials (all materials used by suitable for use by one person); and
 - Proximity to Help.

Procedures

All lone workers should adhere to the following guidelines when working alone:

- Make sure that people at home are aware of your movements.
- In the event that you feel unwell seek help immediately and if necessary call 999.
- Under no circumstances should you ever undertake the following activities:

Risk assessment will identify the hazards of work. When risk assessment shows that it is not possible for the work to be done safely by a lone worker, arrangements for providing help or back up should be put in place, or the work reassigned to another worker or done in hours when the worker is not alone. For example, a worker who arrives before other colleagues may be instructed not to attempt heavy manual lifting until other colleagues arrive to assist. Risk Assessment will all be found in Assignment Instruction of that particular site.

Control Measures

- Checks of employees located within Company premises or property will be made every one hour.
- Employees working elsewhere than on Company premises must call in every [3 hours] [at the beginning and end of each day] during normal working hours. Such Employees will also be provided with a first aid kit that they must ensure remains adequately stocked.
